DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8, 18-20, 25, 27, drawn to a method, program product, or apparatus for discovering elements in a compound with a fitness function, classified in class 435, subclass 6. If this group is chosen, the below mentioned species election is required.
- II. Claims 9-17, 21-24, 26, 28, drawn to a method, program product, or apparatus for discovering elements of a compound using genetic algorithm computations, classified in class 702, subclass 19. If this group is chosen, the below mentioned species election is required.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are directed to related processes. The related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j).

In the instant case, Invention II is distinct from Invention I due to its use of a "population of electronic chromosomes," which is a feature not present in Invention I. The reception of a population of electronic chromosomes makes the method, process and apparatus of Invention II more general in that it can analyze a plurality of electronic data whereas the Invention I is limited to a singular electronic chromosome.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Invention II is not required for Invention I, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Thus, the different method steps in the two inventions require independent searches and result in undue burden when searched together.

Species Election for Both Inventions

Whether Invention I or Invention II is elected, the below species election is required.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Specie A: Discovering elements relates to aspects of combinatorial chemistry and genomics. (Invention I: claim 5; Invention II: claim 14)

Specie B: Discovering elements relates to aspects of medicinal chemistry and high throughput screening used in conjunction with discovering medicinal chemical compounds. (Invention I: claim 6; Invention II: claim 15)

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-4, 7-8, 18-20, 25, and 27 are generic to Invention I; and claims 9-13, 16-17, 21-24, 26, 28 are generic to Invention II. Both Specie A and Specie B relate to distinct fields of biochemistry and pose undue burden when searched together.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1631

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
